These are images of flowers and things on my porch as I and my Wife sit on our porch and look at and feel nature all around us. I can't help it if I see something like light shining on something in an interesting way I take a picture of it. I take pictures of the flowers. I take pictures of the metal yard art. plastic humming birds and a metal dragonfly. A leaf with water on it and the same leaf a few days later.

We listen to smooth jazz on Pandora and watch the birds as they come to eat. Some birds come very close and feed. They don't seem to be afraid of us. The birds I haven't gotten a good picture of yet. This book is more about the other things on the porch. My wife isn't one of them. She doesn't want me taking pictures of her on the porch. This is her relaxing and meta dative time. Mine too. I just relax differently.
