In order to recapture some of the magic of childhood years spent cycling around their home village of Hopeman on the Moray coast, the Sutherland brothers – older but none the wiser – set off from the back gate of the house they grew up in on a journey of a thousand miles.

From the mountains of the Highlands to the traffic-snarled streets of Edinburgh and Glasgow, they ate up Scotland on two wheels and became boys again, pedalling for all they were worth on a road trip of a lifetime that brought pain and laughter in equal measure.

Life Cycle is the story of their journey. A heart-warming book about bikes and brotherhood, it is also a humorous and keenly observed account of the places and people they encountered along the way.
