Grand Canyon National Park

The Grand Canyon is a true marvel and the crown jewel of the Colorado Plateau. Carved by the mighty Colorado River over millions of years, it is one of the seven natural wonders of the world. With its vastness and sheer beauty, it attracts millions of visitors each year.

Exploring the Grand Canyon on the road allows you to witness its grandeur from different perspectives. The South Rim offers breathtaking views and numerous hiking trails, while the North Rim provides a more tranquil ambiance and fewer crowds. Don't forget to capture the mesmerizing sunset over the canyon's rim - a moment that will stay with you forever.

Adventures Beyond the Grand Canyon

While the Grand Canyon is undoubtedly the star of the show, there are numerous other attractions in the Colorado Plateau that await your discovery. From the mystical hoodoos of Bryce Canyon National Park to the slot canyons of Antelope Canyon, every corner of this region holds a unique surprise.

One of the highlights of the area is Zion National Park, known for its towering sandstone cliffs and picturesque hikes. The Navajo Nation, stretching across parts of Arizona, Utah, and New Mexico, showcases the rich cultural heritage of Native Americans. Monument Valley, with its iconic sandstone buttes, has been the backdrop for countless Western films.

Getting Around

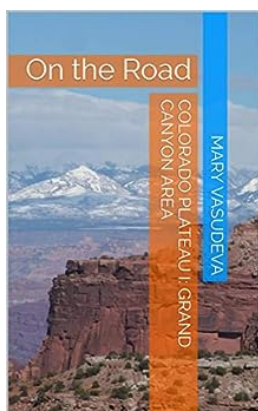

To fully experience the wonders of the Colorado Plateau Grand Canyon Area, embarking on a road trip is highly recommended. Renting a vehicle offers the flexibility to explore at your own pace and discover hidden gems along the way.

With its well-maintained highways and scenic byways, you can easily navigate through the region. Make sure to plan your route in advance and include stops at the various national parks and attractions that interest you. Remember, the journey itself is as rewarding as the destinations you visit.

This book was written as a trip planning resource, whether it's for someone visiting the Grand Canyon for a day or a family or casual hiker who is looking for a longer stay in the region. Don't worry about running out of breath-taking scenery to experience and explore even if you never make it to the South Rim of the Grand Canyon. With several National Parks, The North Rim of the Grand Canyon, Flagstaff and Show Low, you'll have plenty of scenic options. Brilliant sandstone and cliffs, canyons, forests, mountains and, of course, the clear blue skies make for days and even weeks of options. And, you'll never be very far from the comfort and amenities offered by Kanab, Flagstaff, Williams or Fredonia. Hike, bike raft, ski or head inside to see the culture and artifacts of America's earliest inhabitants.
