Rhyme 2: The Quest for the Lost Treasure

OUTDOOR TREASURE HUNT

I'm a place for meals under the sun,
With benches where you can all have fun.
Wooden surface, sturdy and wide,
Gather around me for a picnic ride.

I'm found in a garden, but not growing like a flower.
People sit on me in the sun for an hour.

I'm a small building made of wood,
where you can store things that are good.
You can find me in the backyard,
and sometimes in a farmyard.

I'm made of wood or metal bars,
And help keep things in or out,
With me around, you'll be secure.

I'm not the sun, but I help you see
When the darkness comes over thee.

I'm mounted up high on a wall or a tree, And with a flick of a light up the scene.

I'm found outside, but I'm not a tree,
I hold some dirt, but I'm not a shovel you see.
I help things grow, but I'm not the sun,
I come in different shapes and sizes,
but I'm just one.

A bewitchingly colourful adventure rhyme book for those who still believe in magic. In short rhyming verses, Itchy Witchy Magic takes young readers on a magical full-moon night journey (that ends somewhat abruptly when a tree gets in the way of an out-of-control broom stick ...) But read for yourself! Why should I buy a rhyme book for my child, students, loved ones? Rhymes teach children the essence of language and are an essential tool to help with a child's language acquisition and speech development. Rhyming is important for writing, too, as it can help children understand that words that share common sounds often share common letters. When listening to rhyming poems, children create a mental picture, expanding the imagination. And because rhyming is fun, it adds joy to the sometimes daunting task of learning to read.
