This e-book is Number 22 in a series of treasure hunt walks by Treasuredays Ltd.

This is the cryptic version of our Edinburgh route.

The Treasure Hunt starts at Princes Mall outside Waverley Station. From the Scott Monument in Princes Street Gardens, the route first explores Edinburgh's Georgian New Town, via St. Andrew Square, George Street and back to Princes Street. We then cross over to the Old Town and discover Greyfriars Bobby and the 'Toon Coo'. The final stretch of the treasure hunt runs along the Royal Mile, past the Cathedral, to Castle Hill. The treasure hunt ends at Edinburgh Castle.

Kindle Treasure Hunts are a great way to make a walk around town more fun, interesting and even educational. As you walk round you are given a set of questions to answer based on things you can see along the route. You can use them to explore a new area, or to find the interesting nooks and crannies that you may have missed in a familiar one.

The 58 questions in this edition are designed to be fairly challenging. Most of the clues are written, but some are picture questions. Some are cryptic or require some basic general knowledge, and others are based on things on the route that may be tricky to spot. If you would prefer something more straightforward, for example if you are taking children with you, a family edition of the treasure hunt on the same route is also available from Amazon. This contains easier clues that should be quite straightforward to find and work out.

As you solve each clue, you can record your answer using the notes function on your Kindle, or use your phone or just good old pen and paper if you prefer. The treasure hunt is divided into sections, and there is a link to check your answers at the end of each section.

Our Kindle Treasure Hunts are designed for individuals or families and other small groups who are walking the route together. If you wish to do the treasure hunt as a competition in two or more separate groups, please visit the Treasuredays site for information on treasure hunts that will allow you to make as many copies of the question sheets as you need.

You should typically allow about 3 hours to complete the treasure hunt. But it may take longer if you stop for refreshments or retrace your steps to find clues you may have missed.
