Shuttle Tatting

In shuttle tatting, a small shuttle is used to hold the thread while creating the knots and loops. The shuttle is usually made of metal or plastic and has a pointed end that allows for precise movements. This technique is known for creating knots that are close together, resulting in a dense and sturdy lace fabric.

Needle Tatting

Needle tatting, on the other hand, involves using a special tatting needle to create the knots and loops. The needle usually has a hook on one end and a blunt tip on the other. This technique allows for more flexibility and easier manipulation of the thread, making it easier to create larger and more intricate designs.

Materials Required

To get started with tatting, you will need the following materials:

- Thread: Choose a thread that is suitable for tatting, such as crochet thread or embroidery floss. The thickness of the thread will determine the size and delicacy of your tatting project.
- Shuttle or Needle: Depending on the technique you choose, you will need either a shuttle or a tatting needle.
- Scissors: A pair of sharp scissors is essential for cutting the thread.
