

Modern Crewel Embroidery: 15 Fresh Samplers Stitched With Wool

The art of embroidery has a long and rich history, dating back centuries. From delicate cross-stitches to intricate tapestries, embroidery has always been a way to create beautiful and intricate designs. One form of embroidery that has gained popularity in recent years is crewel embroidery.

Crewel embroidery is a decorative form of embroidery that is stitched with wool on a fabric. It was traditionally done on linen, but modern versions can be done on a wide range of fabrics. The technique involves using a variety of stitches, such as the chain stitch, satin stitch, and split stitch, to create intricate patterns and designs.

Unlike traditional embroidery, which typically involves using fine threads and delicate stitches, crewel embroidery uses thicker wool threads, resulting in a bold and textured look. This type of embroidery offers more flexibility in terms of design, allowing for larger patterns and bolder color choices.
