Introducing New Comprehension Practice Papers

The new comprehension practice papers have been meticulously designed to cater to students of different age groups, ranging from primary school to high school. These papers offer a wide range of texts, including fiction and non-fiction, scientific articles, historical passages, and more. Each paper is accompanied by a series of questions that assess various aspects of comprehension, such as understanding the main idea, inferring meaning, analyzing character traits, and identifying literary devices.

Interactive and Engaging Exercises

One of the key features of the new comprehension practice papers is their interactivity. Gone are the days of answering static questions on a piece of paper. By exposing students to a variety of genres and writing styles, these papers help develop adaptability and flexibility in the face of different reading materials. This is particularly important when transitioning from one academic level to another or when exploring new areas of interest.

Between the ages of 9 and 12, children have to complete Standardised Assessment Tests (Sats). To help them practise for these tests, we have produced a new series of comprehension booklets. The Standards and Testing Agency states that the child has 1 hour to complete the test, answering the questions in the answer booklet. Read one text and answer the questions about that text, before moving onto the next text. There are three texts and three sets of questions in each booklet.

The tests in this booklet are based on the KS2 Reading Assessment sample papers. It is important to try and complete them in an hour, but it is your choice. The more tests you practise the quicker you will get.
