Ann Rubino, the mastermind behind Peppino Good As Bread, brings her passion for cooking and her Italian heritage to life in every dish served. Growing up in a small village in Italy, Ann learned the art of traditional Italian cooking from her grandmother, who passed down secret family recipes that have now become the backbone of Peppino's menu.

Captivating Your Taste Buds

At Peppino Good As Bread, authenticity is key. Ann meticulously sources the freshest ingredients from local farmers and suppliers, ensuring that every bite bursts with flavor. From the classic Margherita pizza with its perfectly charred crust to the rich and hearty homemade lasagna, each dish tells a story of its own.

While the menu offers a wide array of traditional Italian favorites, Peppino Good As Bread also surprises diners with innovative culinary creations that blend Italian traditions with global influences. Indulge in the exquisite hand-rolled gnocchi with truffle-infused butter, or savor their signature dessert, the "Dolce del Cielo," a heavenly combination of velvety tiramisu and crispy cannoli shells.

A Feast for the Senses

Peppino Good As Bread not only delights with its tantalizing flavors but also captivates your other senses. The serene background music complements the bustling chatter of satisfied diners, creating an ambiance reminiscent of lively Italian trattorias. The attentive and friendly staff, dressed in traditional attire, make you feel like a cherished member of the Peppino family.

For those seeking an intimate experience, Peppino Good As Bread offers a private dining room adorned with soft candlelight and adorned with fresh flowers. Whether you're celebrating a special occasion or simply enjoying a night out with your loved ones, this cozy corner creates an atmosphere of romance and indulgence.

The Allies are bombing the city. Nazis control Peppino’s town. The Fascist mayor has seized Peppino’s house and nine year-old Peppino and his mother are forced to live with the farm animals in the basement. “Keep your mouth shut, hide your stuff, break laws if you have to, lie if you must, survive!” Peppino learns the unspoken rules of survival. He finds he has a knack for deception, unexpected courage, and becomes a young man “good as bread.” (Reading level: 660L)
