Twisting, curving 20-mile route parallels Interstate 15 from just outside Escondido north to Pala Road. It requires careful and attentive driving.

The book, which includes a locator map, photos, a link to a Google map, history of the area and activities, takes drivers on narrow roads with blind driveways and hairpin curves, with frequent stretches that have little or no shoulder, as well as encroachment by everything from trees to boulders to guardrails. Views include mountains and valleys, ranches, and canopies created by adjacent trees. It's a perfect San Diego day trip.

It's a blast for bicycle and motorcycle riders, and for drivers of modern sedans and sports cars. A bit more challenging for classic car drivers whose cars are equipped with solid rear axles (if you have one, you'll know what I'm talking about).
