In the heart of this captivating novel, Lina Meruane explores themes of love, loss, and the fragility of the human condition. Set against the backdrop of Santiago, Chile, the story follows the life of a young woman named Lucina, who suddenly experiences a life-altering event.

Meruane's masterful storytelling takes you on a journey through Lucina's transformation as she navigates the world through her newfound disability. The author's vivid descriptions and poetic prose make it nearly impossible not to be fully immersed in Lucina's struggles, triumphs, and the depths of her emotional turmoil.

One of the most remarkable aspects of "Seeing Red" is Meruane's ability to create rich, complex characters that feel incredibly real. Lucina's strength, vulnerability, and determination make her a protagonist that readers can wholeheartedly connect with, applaud, and empathize with throughout her journey.

The novel's exploration of physical and emotional pain, as well as its examination of the complexities of human relationships, adds another layer of depth to the story. Meruane delves into the depths of the human psyche, shining a light on the raw and sometimes uncomfortable truths that we all grapple with at some point in our lives.

The prominent use of the color red throughout the book serves as a powerful symbol that embodies the intensity and passion of the narrative. The vivid imagery created through Meruane's skillful prose allows readers to truly see, feel, and experience the world through Lucina's eyes.

The Impact and Critical Reception

"Meruane's prose has great literary force: it emerges from the hammer blows of conscience, but also from the ungraspable, and from pain."—Roberto Bolaño

This powerful, profound autobiographical novel describes a young Chilean writer recently relocated to New York for doctoral work who suffers a stroke, leaving her blind and increasingly dependent on those closest to her. Fiction and autobiography intertwine in an intense, visceral, and caustic novel about the relation between the body, illness, science, and human relationships.

Lina Meruane (b. 1970), considered the best woman author of Chile today, has won numerous prestigious international prizes, and lives in New York, where she teaches at NYU.
