Exposing the Dark Corners: Types of Crimes and their Frequencies

The crime map provides a comprehensive breakdown of the types of crimes reported in different neighborhoods of Amsterdam. This information allows you to gauge the severity of the crime in a particular area and make informed decisions about where to stay and what places to avoid during your visit.

Petty Theft

Considered one of the most common crimes experienced in Amsterdam, petty theft often occurs in crowded areas with high tourist footfall, such as the city center and popular attractions like Dam Square and the Red Light District. Travelers should be vigilant about their belongings, ensure their bags are securely closed, and avoid displaying valuable items openly. The Stay Safe Crime Map helps you identify areas with a high number of reported petty thefts, allowing you to adjust your itinerary and take appropriate security measures.

Bicycle Theft

Amsterdam is famous for its love for bicycles, but unfortunately, bicycle theft is also common. With bike rental being a popular choice for exploring the city, thieves target parked bicycles, especially in crowded areas or near train stations. The Stay Safe Crime Map highlights zones where bicycle theft is more prevalent, enabling you to park your bicycle in safer areas or take extra anti-theft measures.

Drug-Related Incidents

Amsterdam's reputation for its liberal drug policies is often misinterpreted, leading to misjudgments about the city's safety. While the consumption of certain drugs is tolerated, it is vital to acknowledge that drug-related incidents still occur. The crime map highlights areas where such incidents have been reported, helping you make informed decisions based on your personal preferences and safety concerns.

Other Crimes

Apart from the aforementioned crimes, the Stay Safe Crime Map also tracks other offenses, including assault, vandalism, and pickpocketing. By visualizing the frequency and areas of these crimes, the map empowers you with knowledge that allows you to plan your visit with caution.
