This knitting pattern is basically very easy; the only slight challenge is producing the vertical stripes to create the plaid/tartan design, but I have included step-by-step instructions of how to do it. The basic knitted scarf is quick to make; adding the vertical stripes is the most time-consuming part, but well worth the effort when you see the end result.

The yarn used is light worsted (double knitting/8 ply) and you only need one 4 oz skein (100g ball) in the main color, and oddments in three contrast colors (no more than 1 oz (25g) of each additional color required).

The finished scarf measures approximately 8" (20 cm) wide, and is approximately 30" (76 cm) in circumference.

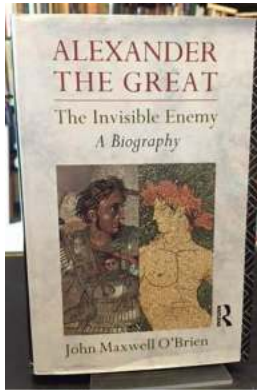

Changing the color combination adds a completely different look each time, and whether you opt for funky and fashionable, or elegant and traditional, the infinity scarf adds the finishing touch to any outfit.
