This e-book is No. 43 in a series of treasure hunt walks by Treasuredays Ltd.

This is the easier, family version of our Glasgow route.

The Treasure Hunt starts in George Square. After exploring all round George Square, the hunt heads past the Royal Exchange and into Glasgow's historic Merchant City district. The route winds back and through the streets of the Merchant District, taking in the Tobacco Merchant's House, Hutchesons' Hall, the Ramshorn Kirk, the Mercat Cross, Tolbooth Theatre and City Halls. Finally, we head up High and Castle Streets to Cathedral Square. The treasure hunt ends at St. Mungo's Cathedral.

Our treasure hunt e-books are a great way to make a walk around town more fun, interesting and even educational. You can use them to explore a new area, or to find the interesting nooks and crannies that you may have missed in a familiar one.

Each treasure hunt consists of a route around a town or district designed to take in the most interesting and quirky sights, and a set of clues to answer based on things you can find along the route. Most of the clues are written. But there are also a few picture questions – these come at the start of the section of the route in which the picture can be seen, and are indicated by letters rather than numbers. There are 56 questions in all in this hunt.

As you solve each clue, you can record your answer using the notes function on your tablet or Kindle, or use your phone or just good old pen and paper if you prefer. The treasure hunt is divided into sections, and there is a link to check your answers at the end of each section; or you can wait to check everything at the end.

Our treasure hunt e-books are designed for individuals or families and other small groups who are walking the route together. If you wish to do the treasure hunt as a competition in two or more separate groups, please visit the Treasuredays site for information on treasure hunts that will allow you to make as many copies of the question sheets as you need.

You should typically allow about 2-3 hours to complete the treasure hunt. But it may take longer if you stop for refreshments or retrace your steps to find clues you may have missed.
