The Pulse of the World: Understanding Latitude and Longitude

To truly comprehend the map of the world, we must first acquaint ourselves with its key coordinates - latitude and longitude. These powerful lines are the cartographer's way of harmonizing the three-dimensional Earth onto a two-dimensional plane, allowing us to locate any point on the map with pinpoint precision.

Latitude, represented by horizontal lines, measures the distance between a point and the equator. This celestial belt encircles our planet, providing an understanding of a location's climatic conditions, from the sunlit tropics near the equator to the snow-capped poles.

Longitude, in contrast, measures the distance between a point and the Prime Meridian, which passes through Greenwich, London. This vertical line helps us define time zones and allows for navigating across the globe.

Marvelous Hasidic tales: miracles, holy men, family dilemmas, anti-Semites overcome, piety and goodness, poverty and wealth, despair and hope, kings and wicked viceroys, and teachings of joy and optimism! Rabbi Abraham Shtern, Torah scholar, kabbalist, and author, was born in Tishevitz, Lublin district of Poland, to a Hasidic family on July 12, 1878. In 1938, he emigrated to Montreal, where he wrote this collection of Hasidic stories in Yiddish, stories that he had heard first-hand and which had never been written down before. The author and musicologist Israel Rabinovitch wrote, “When you read these miracle stories, you do not have the impression that you are reading ‘literature’ but that you are listening to the recitation of a deeply pious Hasid who believes everything that he received from the Hasidic tradition. His way of telling a story is like that of the very first Hasidic source.” And Rabbi Pinchas Hirschprung, the leading rabbinic authority in Montreal in his day, wrote: “He possessed a folk language that has all of the Talmudical grace and inspired a desire to learn Torah... And it was a pleasure to hear his thoughts, evaluations, and opinions, which were always sincere.” Rabbi Abraham Shtern passed away in Montreal on March 2, 1955.
