Jake is an average, unpopular kid at school, and is shocked when the cool new kids ask him to sit with them at lunch. They're not what he expected – a monstrous boy named Darryl levitates a lunch tray above his head, and a mysterious girl named Amanda shoot green bolts of lightning from her fingertips.

Jake is soon on a mission to prove he's anything but average when it's revealed he's from another planet and has a duty to protect Amanda. He helps his new friends as they're hunted by a dangerous, very-much alive mechanical dinosaur. And that's just to start with. Jake learns that he has powers of his own (that involve a hidden door with glowing light) and will do everything he can to keep his new friends safe.
