In a time when justice is hard to find, one man will never stop looking.

Salobreña, Spain. 1660.

In his very first appearance, super-sleuth Domingo Armada is called to the village of Salobreña where a gruesome murder has occurred during the sugar cane harvest. At first it seems the work of an outsider, the only one near the victim at the time of the killing.

Together with his trusty page Lucas, Armada looks closer to uncover a conspiracy involving the disappearance of a mysterious woman years before, and a secret that involves all the most powerful men in town.

A secret that someone is willing to kill to keep.

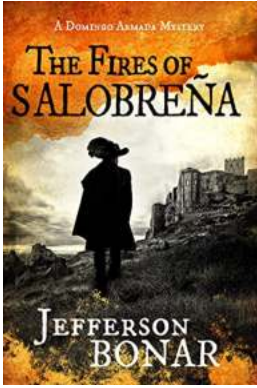

A Murder Most Spanish is the first in a new series of historical mysteries that transport you back in time, and immerse you in a world that brings the history of Spain to life.
