Start your adventure by visiting Stanley Park, an urban oasis offering lush greenery, stunning beaches, and scenic bike paths. Take a leisurely stroll along the seawall and enjoy breathtaking views of the city skyline.

Next, head to Granville Island, a hub of creativity and culinary delights. Explore the vibrant Public Market, where you can sample local produce, seafood, and artisanal creations. Don't forget to bring your camera, as the picturesque scenery will leave you in awe.

For those seeking outdoor thrills, Vancouver offers plenty of opportunities for adventure. From hiking in the nearby mountains to exploring the beautiful coastline, you'll never run out of things to do. Don't miss the chance to visit Capilano Suspension Bridge Park, where you can walk among towering trees and cross the iconic suspension bridge.

2. Discovering Victoria – The Garden City

Located on Vancouver Island, just a short ferry ride away from Vancouver, Victoria is a charming city known for its British heritage and stunning gardens. Immerse yourself in the city's rich history by visiting the iconic Craigdarroch Castle, a Victorian-era mansion offering breathtaking views of the surrounding area.

Indulge your senses at the famous Butchart Gardens, where you'll find lush displays of colorful flowers, tranquil ponds, and enchanting walking paths. Snap a selfie at the flamboyant Sunken Garden and savor the sweet fragrance of the Rose Garden.

If you're a wildlife enthusiast, don't miss the opportunity to go whale watching. Victoria is a prime location to spot majestic orcas and other marine life. Hop on a boat tour and embark on an unforgettable journey through the Salish Sea.

Complete your visit to Victoria with a stroll along the Inner Harbour, where you can admire historic buildings, watch street performers, and enjoy the lively atmosphere. Don't forget to sample some delicious seafood while you're there!

3. Exploring Vancouver Island – Canada's Natural Paradise

Vancouver Island is a true haven for nature lovers. With its pristine beaches, lush rainforests, and crystal-clear lakes, the island offers endless opportunities for exploration and adventure.

Start your journey by hiking to the top of Mount Douglas, where you'll be rewarded with panoramic views of the island's coastline. Keep an eye out for local wildlife, such as bald eagles and black-tailed deer.

Next, head to Cathedral Grove, a majestic old-growth forest that will transport you to another world. Marvel at the towering ancient trees and listen to the peaceful sounds of nature. This magical place is perfect for a tranquil walk or a picnic surrounded by natural beauty.

If you're a water sports enthusiast, Vancouver Island won't disappoint. Spend a day kayaking through the calm waters of the Gulf Islands, or try your hand at surfing in Tofino, known for its world-class waves.

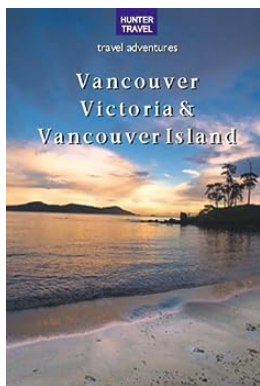

For a truly unique experience, embark on a wildlife tour in Telegraph Cove, where you can spot humpback whales, sea lions, and even grizzly bears. Get up close and personal with these magnificent creatures and create memories that will last a lifetime.

4. Where to Stay and How to Get Around

When visiting Vancouver and Victoria, you'll find a wide range of accommodation options to suit every budget. From luxurious hotels with stunning views to cozy bed and breakfasts, there's something for everyone.

As for transportation, the most convenient way to explore Vancouver and Victoria is by renting a car. This will allow you to have the freedom to explore at your own pace. However, both cities also have excellent public transportation systems, including buses, SkyTrain (Vancouver's light rail system), and the Victoria Clipper (a high-speed passenger ferry).

Now that you have a glimpse of what Vancouver, Victoria, and Vancouver Island have to offer, it's time to start planning your unforgettable adventure. Get ready for breathtaking landscapes, vibrant cities, and thrilling experiences. Your Pacific Northwest journey awaits!

The desire to travel is instinctive; to see what's ahead of us, around the corner, or across the sea. We've been curious about the world since time began. So get out there, see the world, have an adventure, have fun, live!

The biggest city in BC, Vancouver is famed for letting its residents go from working in a high-rise office buildings all day to paddling kayaks, skiing, mountain biking or pretty much any other outdoor activity before sunset. The city is the art and culture capital of the province, as well. There's plenty of theater, good museums and, during the annual Film Festival, you see people lined up around the block waiting to get into flicks you've never heard of. There's live music somewhere every night of the week, plus all the advantages of a university town. Then there's the wild. Stanley Park is one of the biggest municipal parks anywhere. Get off a trail here and you'll forget that you're in the middle of a city of more than two million residents. Twenty minutes from downtown can put you in the deep forest.

Vancouver Island is the largest island on the west coast, and it has not only some of the biggest trees in the world – as well as sea monsters, orca and fairly regular Bigfoot sightings – it also has the city of Victoria, recently voted the top city in North America. Once you're on the island, it'll be hard to think of a reason to leave.

How can you not love a city that puts flower pots on all its lamp posts? Victoria is, plain and simple, one of the glory cities of the western hemisphere. It's beautiful, friendly, civilized. And it's diverse. You can go from having high tea at one of the fanciest hotels to chasing sea monsters, all in a few hours. You can tour classics of Victorian architecture, or hang out with orcas. And then you can move out and begin to explore Vancouver Island, from Port Hardy to Quadra Island, Pacific Rim National Park to Nootka Sound. Where to stay and eat, how to get around, what to see and do – all the information you need is here, along with abundant photographs.
