Uncovering the Charm of Exeter

Leaving Wembury Bay behind, the trail takes you through the vibrant city of Exeter. With its rich history dating back to Roman times, Exeter is filled with architectural wonders and cultural treasures waiting to be discovered. Take a detour and stroll through the narrow lanes of the city, unexpectedly stumbling upon ancient landmarks such as the stunning Exeter Cathedral.

Make sure to sample the local delicacies at the numerous cafes and restaurants scattered throughout the city. Indulge in traditional Devonshire cream tea, savor mouthwatering fish and chips, or treat yourself to a locally brewed ale. Exeter offers a perfect blend of history, culture, and gastronomy.

Ascending the Exmoor National Park

Leaving Exeter, the trail leads you into the breathtaking Exmoor National Park. Renowned for its unspoiled beauty and diverse wildlife, this wilderness is a paradise for hikers. As you ascend the rolling hills and traverse the valleys, be prepared to encounter majestic red deer, elusive wild ponies, and soaring birds of prey. The serenity of the landscape will leave you in awe.

The village of Lynmouth awaits at the end of this exhilarating journey. Nestled at the mouth of the West Lyn River, Lynmouth welcomes tired hikers with its quaint charm and stunning natural scenery. Take a leisurely stroll along the riverside promenade, explore the charming gift shops, or indulge in a traditional cream tea overlooking the picturesque harbor. Lynmouth is the perfect place to unwind and reflect on the incredible journey you have just completed.

This guidebook to walking Coast to Coast across Devon, presents a 117 mile route incorporating the Two Moors Way and a section of the Erme-Plym Trail. Beginning at Wembury Bay on the south coast and finishing at Lynmouth, the 11-stage walk passes through the beautiful Devon countryside and across two of southwest England's magnificent moorlands, Dartmoor and Exmoor. The schedule can be adjusted to give a one-week walk, or a more leisurely pace if preferred, and the book includes low-level bad-weather alternative routes for some moorland stretches.

A full route description is given for walking the route from south to north, with a summary description for walking in the opposite direction. 1:50,000 map extracts show the route and there is lots of practical information on public transport, refreshments and accommodation to make day-by-day planning simple.

A map booklet showing the full route on OS 1:25K maps is included with this guide.

The county of Devon incorporates a wonderful range of landscapes, from the rolling fields and enclosed paths of South Devon to the wild, wide-open spaces of Dartmoor, with its hill ponies, granite tors and Bronze Age relics. To the north, Exmoor's sandstone moorland sweeps down to the sea, and lofty coastal hills tower over the Bristol Channel.
